

PIPE WRENCHES

LEVER ACTION PIPE WRENCH

A traditional plumbers wrench designed for use on pipe work and round objects. The opposed direction serrated jaw faces ensure a positive grip on the workpiece, the grip is increased as more pressure is applied to the wrench. The main body is drop forged with a pressed steel lever frame. The teeth are induction hardened for a long working life.

	STOCK NO	LENGTH	JAW CAPACITY	EX VAT	INC VAT
A	FAI PWLA7	175mm (7in)	42mm	£8.24	£9.88
	FAI PWLA9	230mm (9in)	48mm	£11.28	£13.53
B	FAI PWLA12	300mm (12in)	60mm	£18.76	£22.51

STILLSON WRENCHES

The 'Stillson' wrench is designed so that when pressure is applied, all the stress is transmitted through the hooked jaw and adjusting nut to the handle jaw, without the frame bearing any significant load. All parts are forged from high quality steel and are heat treated to ensure maximum strength. The teeth on each jaw oppose one another to enable a ratcheting action to be applied as the nut loosens and frees off.

HEAVY-DUTY PIPE WRENCHES

These are heavy-duty industrial tools known as 'Leader' pipe wrenches. They are used in civil engineering and are consequently made to conform to the most stringent specifications.

The cast iron handle is a heavy 'I' beam construction to ensure maximum strength and rigidity under loading. The teeth on each jaw are hardened and tempered to resist wear. The design of this wrench allows a bigger jaw capacity than the 'Stillson' wrench. The lower jaw is precision seated to prevent harmful loading onto the retaining pin.

SAFETY TIP
Wrenches are designed to withstand the maximum leverage generated by muscle power. Hammering or mechanical levering can cause a failure of the wrench.
